ALLOY SILVERSTEIN RENEWS COMMITMENT TO WEALTH MANAGEMENT AT 1ST GLOBAL'S NATIONAL CONFERENCE 2009

Alloy, Silverstein, Shapiro, Adams, Mulford, Cicalese, Wilson & Co., headquartered in Cherry Hill, renewed its commitment to wealth management excellence at 1st Global's 18th annual National Conference, held November 8-11, 2009, at the Omni Orlando Resort at ChampionsGate, in Central Florida. As many broker/dealers canceled their national conferences this year or offered them to a drastically smaller group of advisors, 1st Global hosted the greatest educational and celebratory conference since the firm's founding more than 17 years ago. This year's conference, "Success in All Seasons," provided attendees with an opportunity to look beyond the difficulties faced this year by advisors and investors alike and proved that the advisors who adopt 1st Global's capabilities are fully prepared to help their clients weather the trying times of a recession.

The four-day conference featured noted industry speakers and focused breakout sessions that showcased best practices from wealth management advisors who have thrived despite the stormy economy and fortified their businesses for future success. Attendees also received advanced education on 1st Global's Sustainable Income Solutions™, successful business succession strategies, as well as how to execute advanced wealth management solutions. In addition to these educational sessions, attendees had the opportunity to learn from their fellow peers during networking events and make connections with industry professionals enabling them to better serve their clients.

"Alloy Silverstein's attendance at 1st Global's National Conference shows their commitment to discovering new ways to define and deliver their value to clients during all economic climates," said 1st Global CEO Tony Batman.
